

Common Bond After Party 2021 – COVID Safety

We are pleased to be offering an in-person event after many months of digital-only programming and fundraisers. Thank you for considering joining us! Here's what you need to know about the steps we are taking to keep our guests, staff, and vendors safe at this event.

Capacity

Chelsea Piers Pier 60 is a very large space with sophisticated air circulation systems and some outdoor space. That said, we will be limiting this event to 50% capacity, and depending on guidelines from the CDC or rules from the City or State, this number may drop further. So please reserve your tickets today! Advance tickets will be $75 and at-the-door ticket purchases will be $80. The smaller number of guests will also allow us to configure the space differently than usual, with significantly more space for the Common Bond After Party. This will create more ease of movement and ability to maintain more physical distance than in past years.

Masking

We ask that you bring a mask with you to the event and consider wearing it when you are not drinking or eating. We know that this is a social event – and that we serve food and drinks continuously – so there is no masking requirement. However, we ask you to consider donning your mask, when possible, particularly when interacting directly with others who may be wearing masks themselves.

Vaccination

In line with City regulations and CDC guidelines, as there will be food and beverages served during all parts of this event (cocktail, dinner, afterparty), we will require proof of vaccination for attendance. This can be done in advance of the event during registration confirmation, or at the door by showing your Excelsior Pass or NYC Covid Safe on your phone, or by showing your physical vaccination card. With this vaccination requirement, there is no restriction for dancing or mingling – we ask our guests to keep in mind social distancing throughout the event.
